ABOUT THE KEVIN PHILLIPS SCHOLARSHIP

The Kevin Phillips Scholarship* was created to honor a passionate RV industry leader who provided many years of respected service to the industry, the RV Industry Association and the RV Technical Institute. He served with distinction on the Board of Directors from 2009 to 2018, including Executive Committee roles as both Secretary and Treasurer, where he maintained a deserved reputation as one of the industry's best and brightest. Kevin was a true advocate for continual learning and saw vocational training as an alternative to the idea that everyone needs to go to college.

The Kevin Phillips Scholarship provides scholarships to help cover the cost of RV technician training at the RV Technical Institute for new high school graduates, people leaving the military, or those who tried college and found it wasn't for them. For people just entering the work force or leaving the military, training costs are just another hurdle to overcome. Through this scholarship, financial assistance will not only help new technicians, but will also recruit more RV technicians, a key resource that is severely lacking for the ongoing success of the RV industry, and a great way to honor Kevin's legacy to the RV industry.
